FAQ'S ABOUT DISPOSABLE UNDER-PADS

♥ What is a Disposable Underpad?

It is a waterproof pad used mainly as incontinence protection for the elderly but has many other applications as a waterproof pad to absorb leaks, reduce odours & control transmission of bacteria that can cause infection.

♥ What Sizes and Colours are available?

Depending on application, a number of different sizes and absorbency levels are available. Custom colours and specifications can also be manufactured. Standard running colours are Blue, Green, White and Pink.

♥ How well do they work?

Though mostly used to manage incontinence, they are very effective in surface protection required during procedures such as enemas, childbirth, sample collection labs, etc. They are most commonly used product for absorbing & containing both light & moderate to heavy leakage. They are easy to use, hypo-allergenic & provide far better hygiene protection compared to a single layer protection such as non-woven layer.

♥ What are the important features of Under-Pads?

Ability to contain leakage and odour; absorb liquid quickly to provide dry surface; reduce the spread of bacteria; ability to stay in place; and provide a soft comfortable layer.

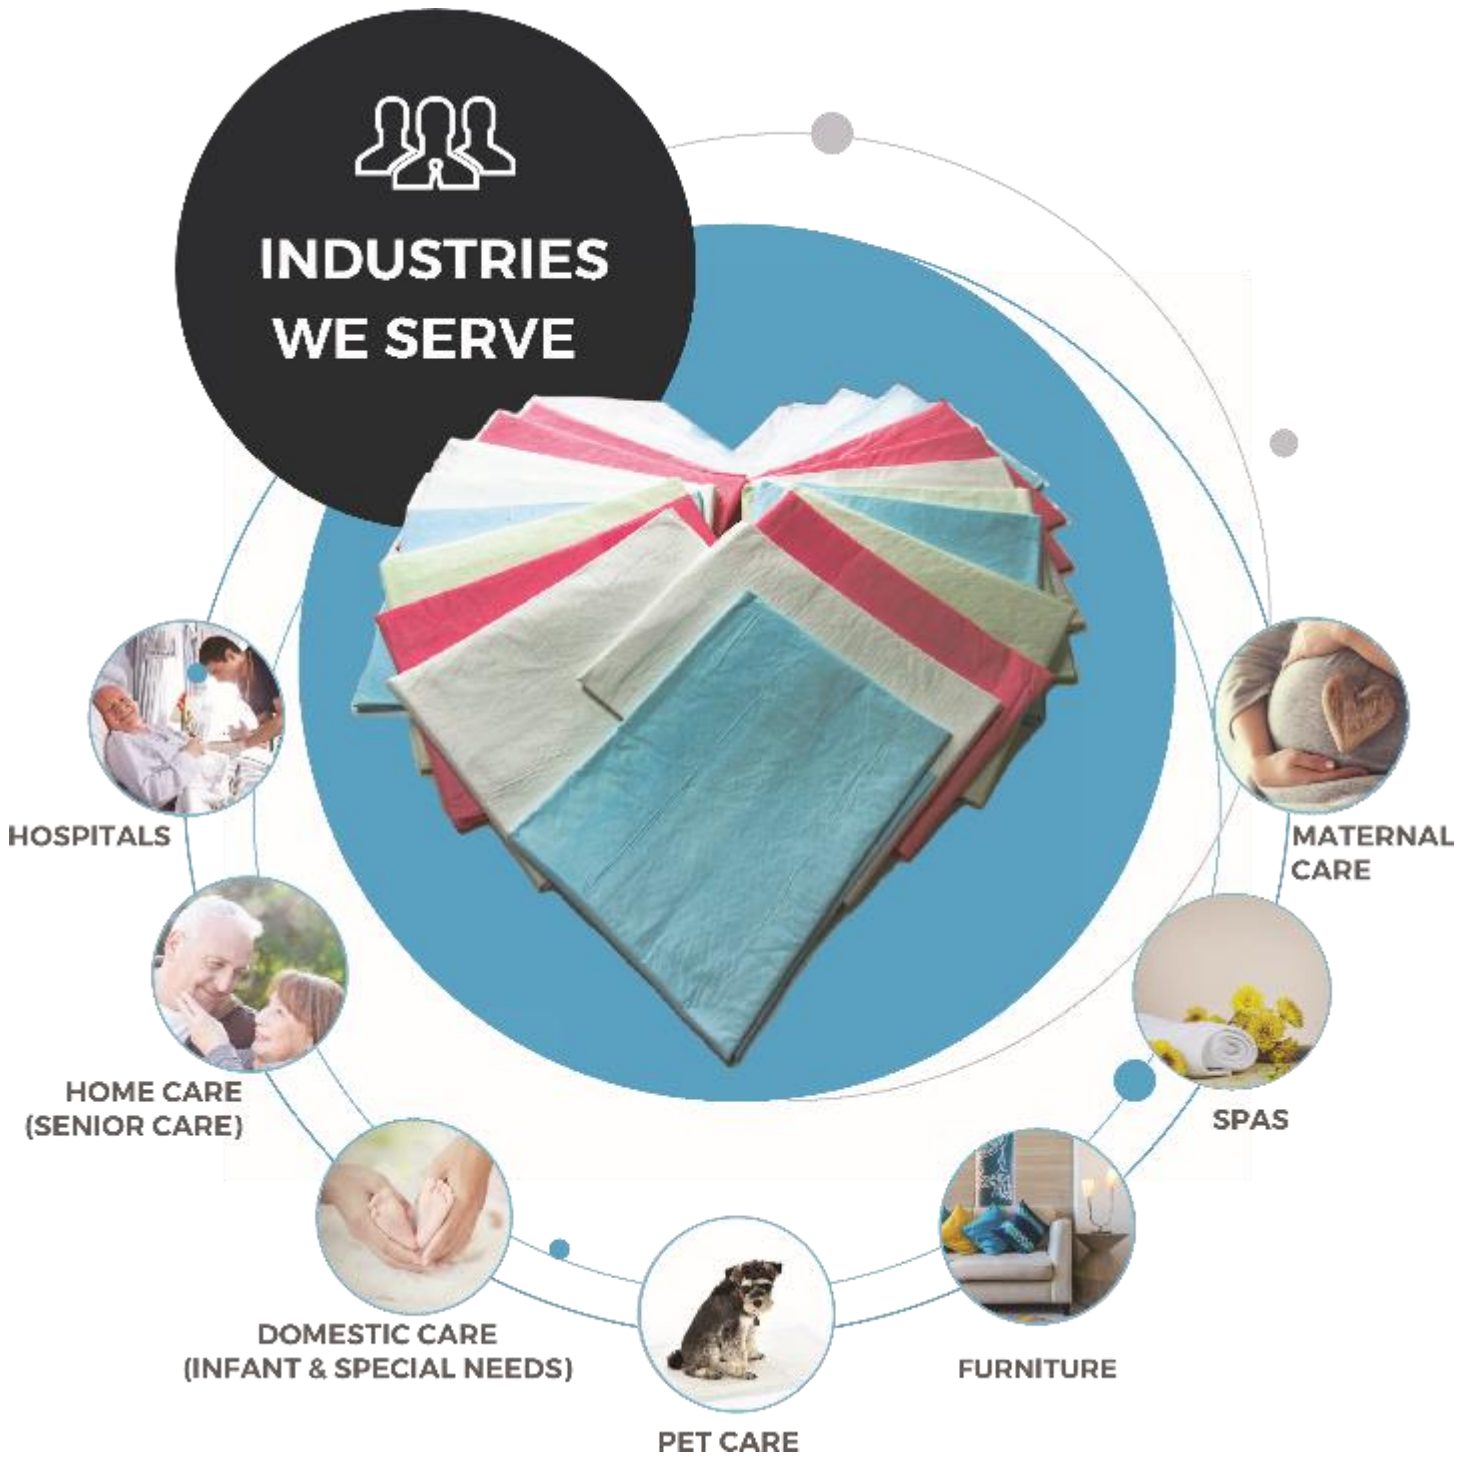

♥ How are disposable under pads made?

Non-woven top sheet – In contact with the skin and designed to keep the skin dry.

Absorbent core – Fluff Pulp combined with Super Absorbent Polymer (SAP) enhances quick absorption of liquids to provide a dry surface, good hygiene & odour control.

Waterproof backing – Waterproof bottom layer ensures no moisture seeps through the underpad.
